Questions/Responses: August 30, 2016

1. Are the right of ways marked acquired to be treated the same as the right of ways marked deeded?

County Response- No. The property pins are being located by Edisto Surveyors on the roads marked deeded. With the property corners located, the roadways can be aligned according to the property pins. On the roads with acquired r/w's, road alignment can be accomplished by establishing an existing centerline and measuring 25' to the left and right.

2. For the areas that have right of ways obtained does the county want the right of ways cleared to full limits are only cleared enough to allow for the roads/shoulders/drainage?

County Response - Entire rights-of-way should be cleared unless there is extenuating circumstances which would need to be discussed with the County.
